Re: Notice of Data Event

Dear Sir or Madam:

We represent First National Bank of Hughes Springs (“First National Bank”) located at 505 East First Street, P.O. Box 188, Hughes Springs, TX 75656, and are writing to notify your office of an incident that may affect the security of some personal information relating to five (5) Maryland residents. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, First National Bank does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

First National Bank recently discovered suspicious behavior related to certain employee email accounts. Following this discovery, First National Bank immediately launched an investigation, with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists, to determine the nature and scope of this incident. The investigation determined that there was unauthorized access to the affected accounts from June 1, 2021 to June 30, 2021. However, the investigation was unable to determine which, if any, emails and attachments in the email accounts were subject to unauthorized access. First National Bank thereafter undertook a comprehensive review of the contents of the affected accounts to determine what, if any, sensitive information was contained within them. On December 1, 2021, this comprehensive review was completed and First National Bank determined the full scope of potentially affected individuals.

The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, address, Social Security number and financial account information.

Notice to Maryland Residents

On or about February 23, 2022, First National Bank provided written notice of this incident to all affected individuals, which includes five (5) Maryland residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, First National Bank moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of First National Bank systems, and notify potentially affected individuals. First National Bank is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. First National Bank is providing access to credit monitoring services for twelve (12) months, through Experian to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, First National Bank is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their credit card company and/or bank. First National Bank is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, information on protecting against tax fraud, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Contact Information

Should you have any questions regarding this notification or other aspects of the data security event, please contact us at (267) 930-4861.

Very truly yours,

RE: Notice of Data Breach

Dear Sample A. Sample:

First National Bank of Hughes Springs (“First National Bank”) writes to notify you of an incident that may affect the privacy of some of your information. We take this incident seriously, and this letter provides details of the incident, our response, and steps you may take to better protect against possible misuse of your personal information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? First National Bank recently became aware of suspicious activity in certain employee email accounts. We immediately launched an investigation, with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists, to determine the nature and scope of the activity. Our investigation determined that there was unauthorized access to the affected accounts from June 1, 2021 to June 30, 2021. However, we were unable to determine which, if any, emails and attachments in the email accounts were subject to unauthorized access. Therefore, in an abundance of caution, we reviewed the contents of the affected accounts to determine what, if any, sensitive information was contained within them. On December 1, 2021, First National Bank’s review determined that the accounts contained certain information related to you.

What Information Was Involved? First National Bank determined that the following information related to you was present in the affected accounts at the time of this incident: your name and [Extra1 - Data Elements]. If your spouse and/or dependents were impacted by this event, we are also mailing them a letter.

What is First National Bank Doing? First National Bank takes the confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in our care seriously. Upon discovery, we immediately commenced an investigation to confirm the nature and scope of the incident. We are taking steps to implement additional safeguards and review policies and procedures relating to data privacy and security.

First National Bank is providing you with access to 12 months of credit monitoring and identity protection services through Experian at no cost to you. A description of services and instructions on how to enroll can be found within the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Against Identity Theft and Fraud. Please note that you must complete the enrollment process yourself, as we are not permitted to enroll you in these services on your behalf.

What You Can Do. You can review the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Against Identity Theft and Fraud. You can also enroll to receive the complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services through Experian. We also encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review your account statements, and to monitor your credit reports for suspicious activity.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
