Re: Incident Notification

Dear Attorney General Frosh:

We are writing on behalf of our client, Rainier Arms (“Rainier”), to notify you of a security incident involving Maryland residents.

In December of 2021, Rainier received reports of unauthorized payment card activity involving customers who had recently made a purchase on their website at <https://www.rainierarms.com/>. Upon discovery, Rainier immediately began an investigation and review of its website but did not find any evidence of unauthorized access to Rainier systems. On April 21, 2022, an additional code review performed by an outside forensic firm found hidden malicious code designed to capture information entered into their website, including payment card information. The investigation determined that an unauthorized party may have accessed payment card information entered onto the website between June 1, 2021, and January 19, 2022. On May 31, 2022, Rainier determined the information that was accessible included the payment or debit card account numbers of 671 Maryland residents.

On June 2, 2022, Rainier is providing written notice via United States Postal Service First Class mail to the Maryland residents¹ whose personal information was potentially accessed by the unauthorized party. Rainier has encouraged the individuals to remain vigilant by regularly reviewing their credit reports and financial account statements for unauthorized activity. Also,

¹ This notice does not waive Rainier’s objection that Maryland lacks personal jurisdiction over it regarding any claims related to this data security incident.

Rainier has provided a dedicated, toll-free number individuals may call to obtain more information regarding the incident.

In response to the incident, Rainier has taken steps to help prevent a similar incident in the future including updating user passwords and implementing additional security safeguards and controls on their website.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely,

Dear <<Name 1>>:

We are writing to inform you of an incident that may have involved some of your information. We are providing this notice to explain the incident and measures we have taken, and also to provide some steps you can take in response.

What Happened?

In December of 2021, we received reports of unauthorized payment card activity involving customers who had recently made a purchase on our website at <https://www.rainierarms.com/>. Upon discovery, we immediately began an investigation and engaged an outside firm to perform a forensic review of our website. On April 21, 2022, our investigation identified malicious code designed to capture information entered into our website, including payment card information.

What Information Was Involved?

The investigation determined that an unauthorized party may have accessed payment card information entered onto our website between June 1, 2021, and January 19, 2022. We reviewed the transactions from our website and determined that you made one or more purchases on the site during that time period. The information that was accessible includes your name and your credit or debit card number(s) ending in <<CC Number>>.

What Are We Doing?

In response to the incident, we have taken steps to help prevent a similar incident in the future including updating user passwords and implementing additional security safeguards and controls on our website.

What You Can Do.

We encourage you to remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports for any unauthorized activity. If you see charges or activity you did not authorize, please contact the relevant financial institution or credit bureau reporting the activity immediately. For more information, including some additional steps you can take to help protect yourself, please see the additional information provided with this letter.

For More Information.

If you have any questions, please call 833-702-1835, Monday through Friday, 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Pacific Time.

Sincerely,

Rainier Arms

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

We remind you it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1-877-322-8228. Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

- Equifax, PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-800-685-1111
- Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742
- TransUnion, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-800-916-8800

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

- Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.ftc.gov/idtheft

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act: The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Your major rights under the FCRA are summarized below. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.
- You have the right to know what is in your file.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.
- Access to your file is limited.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.
- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report.
- You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization.
- You may seek damages from violators.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights.
