

Good afternoon. Please see the below information regarding a recent breach.

Company: Gerber Life Insurance Company

Brief description of the nature of the security breach: This incident involves the possible compromise and/or potential misuse of policyholder data obtained by a Gerber Life associate on an unauthorized basis. The associate was hired as a customer service representative on May 31, 2022 and Gerber Life's investigation revealed concerns with how the associate took credit card payments from customers over the telephone. During several telephone calls, the associate was recorded taking credit card information from policyholders, but did not actually input the information into Gerber Life's premium processing system. As a result, the Gerber Life investigation concluded that the associate inappropriately handled and made written recordings of payment information of two Maryland residents. There is currently no indication that the information has been misused.

The number of Maryland residents being notified (also attach a sample copy of the notice being sent to consumers): 2 (please find sample attached).

What information has been compromised: Name, Address, Policy Number and credit/debit card and/or bank account payment information

Any steps the business is taking to restore the integrity of the system: Gerber Life has confirmed that, as of August 16, 2022, the associate had no access to any customer data, documents, or information and/or any of Gerber Life's information systems, and the associate has since been terminated.

Thank you.

Re: Notification of Data Incident

Dear [POLICYHOLDER]:

We are writing to inform you of an incident relating to the personal information associated with your Gerber Life Insurance policy or policies. Although we have no indication that the personal information associated with your policy has been misused, Gerber Life Insurance Company takes your privacy and the security of your information very seriously. Out of an abundance of caution, we wanted to inform you of the incident and advise you of precautionary measures you may take to reduce any potential risk to you.

On August 18, 2022, Gerber Life began investigating circumstances involving the possible compromise and/or potential misuse of policyholder data obtained by a Gerber Life associate on an unauthorized basis. Gerber Life's investigation included the associate's activity since May 31, 2022, when the associate was first hired as a customer service representative.

On August 30, 2022, Gerber Life's investigation concluded, and, based on its findings, determined that the associate's activities did result in the potential compromise of twenty-four (24) Gerber Life policyholders' personal information.

Gerber Life's investigation led to the conclusion that the personal information associated with your policy or policies, including your name, address, policy number and credit card payment information was potentially compromised after being inappropriately handled by the former employee. Gerber Life has confirmed that, as of August 16, 2022, the associate had no access to any customer data, documents, or information and/or any of Gerber Life's information systems, and the associate has since been terminated.

As a precautionary measure, you may place a security alert on your credit bureau file. This alert will flag your file for additional scrutiny at all credit-reporting agencies. This service, which is free of charge, provides another significant layer of protection, but you must contact the credit bureaus directly to request this alert. By law, Gerber Life cannot make this request on your behalf. If you choose to put a security alert on your account with one agency, that agency will notify the other agencies. You may place or remove the security alert at any time by calling one of the following agencies:

Experian Credit Bureau
P.O. Box 4500
Allen, TX 75013
1.888.397.3742

Equifax Information Services, LLC.
P.O. Box 740256
Atlanta, GA 30374-0256
1.866.349.5191

TransUnion Credit Bureau
P.O. Box 2000
Chester, PA 19016
1.800.680.7289

If you initiate this action, you will receive letters from the agencies with instructions on how to obtain a free copy of your credit report from each. When you receive a credit report from each agency, review the reports carefully. Look for accounts you did not open, inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate, and confirm that your personal information, such as home address and Social Security number, is accurate. If you see anything you do not understand or recognize, call the credit reporting agency at the telephone number on the report. You should also call your local police department and file a report of identity theft. Get and keep a copy of the police report because you may need to give copies to creditors to clear up your records or to access transaction records.

We recommend that you also take these additional precautions:

- Review your account statements often, and report any suspicious activity immediately to your toll-free number of 1-800-253-3074.
- Protect yourself from identity theft by reviewing and acting upon Federal Trade Commission information that can be found at www.ftc.gov/idtheft. You can reach the Federal Trade Commission via phone at 1.877.FTC.HELP or via address at 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580.
- You can contact the Maryland Attorney General via phone at 1-888-743-0023, via address at 200 St. Paul Place, Baltimore, MD 21202, or by website at <https://www.marylandattorneygeneral.gov/>
