Re: Legal Notice of Information Security Breach Pursuant to Md. Code Ann., Com. Law § 14-3501 et seq.

To Whom It May Concern:

In accordance with the above-referenced provision of Maryland law, I write to inform you of an information security incident involving a PepsiCo, Inc. ("PepsiCo") service provider, Donlen Corporation, now known as Sellerco Corporate ("Donlen"). Although it is our understanding that Donlen has previously notified regulators about this incident, PepsiCo is notifying you based on a determination that certain PepsiCo employees may have been impacted.

According to Donlen, on or about March 4, 2021, Donlen observed unusual activity related to the inaccessibility of certain systems within its network. Working with third-party cybersecurity specialists, Donlen determined that an unknown actor accessed its network between February 24, 2021, and March 4, 2021. Upon learning of this incident, Donlen promptly took steps to contain the threat and enable business operations.

Donlen also simultaneously launched a full investigation designed to understand the nature and scope of what occurred, what information was stored on impacted systems at the time of the event, and to which individuals and customers that information relates. As part of its investigation, Donlen identified files and folders within its environment that may have been accessed or acquired by an unauthorized actor and undertook a process to identify what specific data may have been impacted. Donlen's evaluation of the contents of the files was completed on April 8, 2022. On June 30, 2022, Donlen completed additional analysis to confirm to which individuals and customers the information related. Donlen stated that the investigation could not confirm whether information related to PepsiCo employees was actually accessed or viewed during this incident.

Nonetheless, on August 29, 2022, Donlen initially notified PepsiCo that certain personal data relating to PepsiCo's employees may have been impacted by this security incident. After receiving additional information from Donlen about the security incident and Donlen's findings, PepsiCo determined on September 7, 2022 that certain employees may have had their full names and driver's license numbers accessed or acquired and Donlen should notify them on PepsiCo's behalf in an abundance of caution.

Dear <<Name 1>> <<Name 2>>:

Donlen Corporation, now known as Sellerco Corporation (“Donlen Corporation”) writes to inform you of a data security event that may impact some of your personal information. Donlen Corporation provides fleet management services for PepsiCo, Inc. (“PepsiCo”) and is providing this notice to you on behalf of PepsiCo. This notice provides information about the event, Donlen’s response, and resources available to you to help protect your information from possible misuse.

What Happened? On or about March 4, 2021, we observed unusual activity related to the inaccessibility of certain systems within our network. We quickly began investigating to better understand the nature and scope of this activity. Working with third-party cybersecurity specialists, we determined that an unknown actor accessed our network between February 24, 2021, and March 4, 2021. Donlen Corporation promptly took steps to contain the threat and enable business operations. We simultaneously launched a full investigation designed to understand the nature and scope of what occurred, what information was stored on impacted systems at the time of the event, and to which individuals and customers that information relates. As part of our investigation, we identified a limited number of files and folders within the Donlen Corporation environment that may have been accessed and/or acquired by an unauthorized actor.

We undertook a very thorough evaluation of the contents of the files to determine what, if any, sensitive information may have been contained within the files. This exhaustive review involved the manual assessment of thousands of documents. This comprehensive process was completed on April 8, 2022 and we then undertook another rigorous analysis to confirm to which individuals and customers the information related. We completed this confirmation process. After notifying PepsiCo and providing them information related to this event, PepsiCo directed Donlen Corporation to notify you.

What Information Was Involved? The investigation could not confirm whether information related to you was accessed or viewed during this event. As a result, Donlen Corporation is notifying you out of an abundance of caution. The information related to you that was accessible during this event includes your name and: <<data elements>>.

What We Are Doing. Our response included resetting impacted account passwords, reviewing the contents of the impacted systems to determine whether they contained personal information, and reviewing internal systems to identify contact information for purposes of providing notice to potentially affected individuals. Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial, as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
