Re: Notice of Data Event

To Whom It May Concern:

We represent Harvard Pilgrim Health Care (“Harvard Pilgrim”) located at 1 Wellness Way, Canton, MA 02021, and are writing on behalf of Harvard Pilgrim and its applicable business associates to notify your office of an incident that may affect the security of certain personal information and/or protected health information relating to two thousand six hundred ninety-one (2,691) Maryland residents. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Harvard Pilgrim does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On April 17, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim discovered it was the victim of a cybersecurity ransomware incident that impacted systems used to service members, accounts, brokers and providers. After detecting the unauthorized party, Harvard Pilgrim proactively took its systems offline to contain the threat. Harvard Pilgrim notified law enforcement and regulators and is working with third-party cybersecurity experts to conduct a thorough investigation into this incident and remediate the situation.

Harvard Pilgrim is continuing its active investigation and conducting extensive system reviews and analysis before it can resume its normal business operations. Unfortunately, the investigation identified signs that data was copied and taken from Harvard Pilgrim systems from March 28, 2023 to April 17, 2023. Harvard Pilgrim determined that the files at issue may contain personal information and/or protected health information. The investigation revealed that the following information related to Harvard Pilgrim members could potentially be in the files at issue: member names, physical addresses, phone numbers, dates of birth, health insurance account information, Social Security numbers, and clinical information (e.g., medical history, diagnoses, treatment, dates of service, and provider names).

Notice to Maryland Residents

On May 23, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim began notifying potentially impacted individuals by posting notice to its website, providing notice to statewide media in all fifty (50) states and notifying providers, brokers and employer groups. Included in the employer group notice was a message to be sent directly to employees as Harvard Pilgrim did not have direct access to member email addresses. On or about June 15, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim began providing written notice of this incident to two thousand six hundred ninety-one (2,691) Maryland residents for whom it believes it has valid mailing addresses. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, Harvard Pilgrim moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of Harvard Pilgrim systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Further, Harvard Pilgrim notified federal law enforcement regarding the event. Harvard Pilgrim is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. Harvard Pilgrim is providing access to credit monitoring services for two (2) years, through IDX, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, Harvard Pilgrim is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. Harvard Pilgrim is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Harvard Pilgrim is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state and federal regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. Harvard Pilgrim also notified the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and prominent media pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).

After detecting the unauthorized party, we proactively took our systems offline to contain the threat. We notified law enforcement and regulators and are working with third-party cybersecurity experts to conduct a thorough investigation into this incident and remediate the situation.

We take the privacy and security of the data entrusted to us seriously. We are continuing our active investigation and conducting extensive system reviews and analysis before we can resume our normal business operations. Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. A security freeze essentially blocks any potential creditors from being able to view or pull your credit file unless you affirmatively unfreeze or thaw your file beforehand. Having a freeze in place does nothing to prevent you from using existing lines of credit you may already have, such as credit, mortgage and bank accounts. When you place a freeze, each credit bureau will assign you a personal identification number (PIN) that needs to be supplied when you open a new line of credit. When that time comes, consumers can temporarily thaw a freeze for a specified duration either online or by phone. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement. The following is information required by applicable state law:

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; 202-727-3400; and oag.dc.gov.

Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

Harvard Pilgrim Health Care (“Harvard Pilgrim”) is writing to inform you of a cybersecurity incident that may involve your personal information and/or protected health information. We are providing information about the measures Harvard Pilgrim has taken in response to the incident, and steps you can take to help protect yourself against possible misuse of information.

What Happened

Harvard Pilgrim and UnitedHealthcare (“UHC”) participate in an alliance relationship in support of joint product offerings. We provide services to support the administration of these products, including eligibility verification and claims pricing for Harvard Pilgrim contracted providers. On April 17, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim discovered it was the victim of a cybersecurity ransomware incident that impacted systems used to service clients, including UHC. After detecting the unauthorized party, we proactively took our systems offline to contain the threat. We notified law enforcement and regulators and are working with third-party cybersecurity experts to conduct a thorough investigation into this incident and remediate the situation.

We take the privacy and security of the data entrusted to us seriously. We are continuing our active investigation and conducting extensive system reviews and analysis as we resume our normal business operations. Unfortunately, the investigation identified signs that data was copied and taken from Harvard Pilgrim systems from March 28, 2023, to April 17, 2023. On June 21, 2023, we determined that the files at issue may contain your personal information and/or protected health information through our relationship with UHC.

What Information Was Involved

The personal information and/or protected health information in the files at issue may include your name, physical address, phone number, date of birth, health insurance account information, Social Security number, and clinical information (e.g., medical history, diagnoses, treatment, dates of service, and provider names). Harvard Pilgrim is not aware of any misuse of your personal information or protected health information as a result of this incident.

What We Are Doing

As explained above, Harvard Pilgrim took immediate steps to secure its systems and engaged third-party forensic experts to assist in the investigation. Further, in response to this incident, we implemented and/or are continuing to implement additional cybersecurity safeguards to our existing robust infrastructure to better minimize the likelihood of this type of event occurring again.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Re: Supplemental Notice of Data Event

To Whom It May Concern:

We continue to represent Harvard Pilgrim Health Care (“Harvard Pilgrim”) located at 1 Wellness Way, Canton, MA 02021 and write to supplement our June 15, 2023, July 20, 2023, and August 25, 2023 notices. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Harvard Pilgrim does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

On April 17, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim discovered it was the victim of a cybersecurity ransomware incident that impacted systems used to service members, accounts, brokers and providers. After detecting the unauthorized party, Harvard Pilgrim proactively took its systems offline to contain the threat. Harvard Pilgrim notified law enforcement and regulators and worked with third-party cybersecurity experts to conduct a thorough investigation into this incident and remediate the situation.

Harvard Pilgrim is continuing its active investigation. Unfortunately, the investigation identified signs that data was copied and taken from Harvard Pilgrim systems from March 28, 2023 to April 17, 2023. Harvard Pilgrim determined that the files at issue may contain personal information and/or protected health information. On May 23, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim began notifying potentially impacted individuals by posting notice to its website, providing notice to statewide media in all fifty (50) states and notifying providers, brokers and employer groups. On June 15,

2023, Harvard Pilgrim began providing written notice of this incident to individuals identified through its investigation.

Harvard Pilgrim's continued investigation revealed that the following information related to certain Harvard Pilgrim brokers and providers could potentially be in the files at issue: names and Social Security numbers. On February 15, 2024, Harvard Pilgrim continued to provide written notice of the incident to approximately eight hundred thirty-four (834) additional Maryland residents for whom it believes it had valid mailing address information. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

On <<Variable Text 1>>, we determined that the files at issue may contain your personal information.

What Information Was Involved

The personal information in the files at issue may include your <<Variable Text 2>>. Harvard Pilgrim is not aware of any misuse of your personal information as a result of this incident.

What We Are Doing

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Re: Supplemental Notice of Data Event

To Whom It May Concern:

We continue to represent Harvard Pilgrim Health Care (“Harvard Pilgrim”) located at 1 Wellness Way, Canton, MA 02021 and write to supplement our June 15, 2023, July 20, 2023, August 25, 2023, February 15, 2024, and March 27, 2024 notices. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Harvard Pilgrim does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

On April 17, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim discovered it was the victim of a cybersecurity ransomware incident that impacted systems used to service members, accounts, brokers and providers. After detecting the unauthorized party, Harvard Pilgrim proactively took its systems offline to contain the threat. Harvard Pilgrim notified law enforcement and regulators and worked with third-party cybersecurity experts to conduct a thorough investigation into this incident and remediate the situation.

Harvard Pilgrim is continuing its active investigation. Unfortunately, the investigation identified signs that data was copied and taken from Harvard Pilgrim systems from March 28, 2023 to April 17, 2023. Harvard Pilgrim determined that the files at issue may contain personal information and/or protected health information. On May 23, 2023, Harvard Pilgrim began notifying potentially impacted individuals by posting notice to its website, providing notice to statewide media in all fifty (50) states and notifying providers, brokers and employer groups. On June 15,

2023, Harvard Pilgrim began providing written notice of this incident to individuals identified through its investigation.

Harvard Pilgrim's continued investigation revealed that the following information could potentially be in the files at issue: names, physical addresses, phone numbers, dates of birth, health insurance account information, Social Security numbers, and clinical information (e.g., medical history, diagnoses, treatment, dates of service, and provider names). A limited number of people's financial account information may also be in the files. Between August 15, 2024 and October 3, 2024, Harvard Pilgrim continued to provide written notice of the incident to approximately one thousand six hundred thirty-five (1,635) additional Maryland residents for whom it believes it had valid mailing address information. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Should you have any questions regarding this notification or other aspects of the data security event, please contact us at (267) 930-4786.

Very truly yours,

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. A security freeze essentially blocks any potential creditors from being able to view or pull your credit file unless you affirmatively unfreeze or thaw your file beforehand. Having a freeze in place does nothing to prevent you from using existing lines of credit you may already have, such as credit, mortgage and bank accounts. When you place a freeze, each credit bureau will assign you a personal identification number (PIN) that needs to be supplied when you open a new line of credit. When that time comes, consumers can temporarily thaw a freeze for a specified duration either online or by phone. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit.
