Anthony Brown, Attorney General, State of Maryland
Office of the Attorney General
Attn: Security Breach Notification
200 St. Paul Place
Baltimore, MD 21202

Dear Attorney General Brown:

This letter is to provide you with information regarding a breach of Personally Identifiable Information ("PII") involving twenty (20) Maryland Residents. First Care Inc. d/b/a CareFirst Diversified Benefits ("CareFirst") is providing you with information regarding the unauthorized access or use as required by Maryland Code §14-3501 et seq.

On May 31, 2023, Progress Software Corporation announced the identification of a zero-day vulnerability in its MOVEit Transfer software. On June 3, 2023, CareFirst's vendor, The Hartford, learned from its vendor, PBI Research Services ("PBI"), that it had discovered on June 1, 2023 that a threat actor exploited that vulnerability in PBI's implementation of the MOVEit Transfer software to obtain unauthorized access to PBI's data between May 29 and May 30, 2023. PBI uses the software to transfer data files with The Hartford and other parties. PBI performs decedent identification services for The Hartford.

PBI has advised that they took the necessary steps to install the patches that have been made available by the software's owner; PBI has also retained an independent forensics firm to conduct a forensic investigation. Through their investigation, PBI determined that, during the exploit, the threat actor gained access to files containing CareFirst's data.

PBI uses MOVEit Transfer to transfer data files with The Hartford; in this event, the data files being transferred were used to determine if claimants are deceased, consistent with various state laws. The information accessed by the threat actor included name and Social Security Number and/or date of birth, and residents address and zip code.

PBI confirmed they had remediated the software vulnerability and confirmed their systems were not further impacted. PBI reported that it has installed the required security patches to remediate the vulnerability in the data transfer software, conducted its own forensics investigation, and engaged an independent forensics firm to confirm that there was no further impact to PBI's systems as a result of the threat actor's exploit. Additionally, PBI has enhanced its safeguards for data, including setting new rules for deletion of data from its instance of the software.

On or about the week of September 4, 2023, PBI began sending breach notification letters to the affected individuals, which will include an offer for credit monitoring and identity theft protection services for twenty-four (24) months, at no cost to them. Enclosed is a sample template notification letter to be used for this purpose.

PBI has reported the fraudulent activity to the Federal Bureau of Investigations and has stated that they will cooperate if requested to assist with the investigation of the threat actor.

Please do not hesitate to contact me, if you have any questions about this incident.

Sincerely,

P. Todd Cioni, Vice President
Chief Compliance, Ethics & Privacy Officer

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

¹ Kroll’s activation website is only compatible with the current version or one version earlier of Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Edge. To receive credit services, you must be over the age of 18 and have established credit in the U.S., have a Social Security number in your name, and have a U.S. residential address associated with your credit file.

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.
