Re: Notice Pursuant to MD Commercial Code § 14–3501(e)

Dear Attorney General Brown:

Pursuant to Maryland Commercial Code section 14–3501(e), we write on behalf of North Island Ventures, LLC (“North Island Ventures” or “Company”) to notify you of a data security matter, which we believe impacted approximately two Maryland residents. North Island Ventures is an investment firm with venture capital and hedge fund strategies. This incident did not occur within North Island Venture’s network or systems and instead occurred at the Company’s third-party fund administrator, MG Stover &Co (“MG Stover”).

MG Stover recently notified North Island Ventures that, on or around September 19, 2023, an unauthorized party gained access to MG Stover’s account in the Retool application and gained access to certain fund data. MG Stover utilizes Retool, a third-party developer, to develop internal business applications and regulate data from fund accounting applications in the provision of services to North Island Ventures.

We believe this incident impacted approximately two Maryland residents. The types of information that may have been impacted include: names of investors, email addresses, phone numbers, mailing addresses, dates of birth, Social Security numbers or Taxpayer Identification Numbers, and investor commitment, contribution, and capital details, and names and email addresses of interested party(ies).

Notification of this matter was sent to the impacted residents on or around September 27, 2023. A copy of this notification is attached as Exhibit A.

Below is the contact information for Charles Moran, Head of Operations and Shivank Kumar, General Counsel at North Island Ventures:

Exhibit A

Dear Investor,

We are writing to inform you of a recent security incident that may have impacted your personal information or the confidential information of the institutional investor with which you are associated. This incident did not occur within North Island Venture's network or systems and instead occurred at our third-party administrator, as described below.

What happened?

We recently learned from MG Stover & Co ("MG Stover") that, on or around September 19, 2023, an unauthorized party gained access to MG Stover's account in the Retool application and gained access to certain fund data, including the information we have shared with MG Stover. We are providing this notice in an abundance of caution and to enable you to take steps to help protect your information.

North Island Ventures engages MG Stover to provide fund administration services, including portfolio processing and reconciliation, tax preparation, and distribution support. In connection with those services, we provide MG Stover with certain investor information. MG Stover utilizes a third-party developer, Retool, to develop internal business applications and regulate data from fund accounting applications in the provision of services to North Island Ventures.

What Information Was Involved?

MG Stover advised that the unauthorized party was able to query data from the systems connected to Retool, which contained certain data about our individual investors and institutional investors and their representatives. The types of information included will depend on the applicable investment fund. Based on the information provided by MG Stover, the following information may have been accessible:

- North Island Ventures Fund I LP and NIV Fund II LP - Names of investor, mailing addresses, investor commitments, contributions, and capital details.
- NIV Voyager Fund – Names of investor, email address, phone number, mailing address, date of birth, Social Security numbers or Taxpayer Identification Numbers, and names and email addresses of interested party(ies).

What We Are Doing

While this incident did not occur at North Island Ventures, we are committed to the protection of your information and providing investors with available information regarding this matter so you can take action to protect your information. MG Stover also represented to us that they successfully contained the incident and terminated all unauthorized access. MG Stover has also advised that they are taking steps to help prevent a similar occurrence in the future.

What You Can Do

We encourage you to review the enclosed additional information and actions that you can consider taking to help protect your information.

More Information

If you have questions or concerns, please contact Charles Moran at charles@northisland.ventures or Shivank Kumar at shivank@northisland.ventures.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

The following provides additional information and actions that you can consider taking to help protect your information. You may also contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"), the credit reporting agencies, or your state's regulatory authority to obtain additional information about avoiding identity theft, including information about fraud alerts and security freezes, as further detailed below. Order Your Free Annual Credit Report. You can order your free annual credit report online at www.annualcreditreport.com, by phone (toll free) at 877-322-8228, or by mail by submitting a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form to: Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. You can download a copy of the request form on the FTC website: www.ftc.gov. You can also visit the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's website for more information on how you can obtain your credit report for free: www.consumerfinance.gov. Once you receive your credit reports, review them carefully for any discrepancies. Identify any accounts you did not open or inquiries from creditors that you did not authorize. Verify all information is correct. If you have questions or notice incorrect information, contact the credit reporting agency.

Review Your Accounts and Report Unauthorized Activity. We recommend you remain vigilant with respect to reviewing your account statements and credit reports, and promptly report any suspicious activity or suspected identity theft to the proper law enforcement authorities, including local law enforcement, your state's attorney general, and/or the FTC. Carefully review your credit reports and bank, credit card, and other account statements. Be proactive and create alerts on credit cards and bank accounts to notify you of activity. If you discover unauthorized or suspicious activity on your credit report or by any other means, file an identity theft report with your local police and contact a credit reporting company. You may also consider filing or obtaining a police report.

Consider Placing a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File. To protect yourself from potential identity theft, you may consider placing a fraud alert on your credit file. A fraud alert is intended to make it more difficult for someone to open a new credit account in your name. A fraud alert indicates to an entity requesting your credit file that you suspect you are a victim of fraud. When you or someone else attempts to open a credit account in your name, increase the credit limit on an existing account, or obtain a new card on an existing account, the alert notifies the entity to take steps to verify your identity. You may contact one of the credit reporting agencies listed above for assistance.

Consider Placing a Security Freeze on Your Credit File. You also may consider implementing a security freeze (also called a "credit freeze"). Placing a freeze on your credit report restricts access to your credit report and will prevent lenders and others from accessing your credit report entirely. This means you (or others) will not be able to open a new credit account while the freeze is in place. You can temporarily lift the credit freeze if you need to apply for new credit. With a security freeze in place, you may be required to take special steps when you wish to apply for any type of credit. You may contact one of the credit reporting agencies listed above for assistance.

Remain Vigilant and Lookout for Phishing Schemes. We also encourage you to remain vigilant in managing and handling your personal information and be on the lookout for suspicious emails, such as phishing schemes. Phishing schemes are attempts by criminals to steal personal information, including credit card numbers and social security numbers, over email. These attempts are often made by manipulating an email to make it look as if it came from a legitimate source, but which is actually sent by a fraudulent impersonator. Pay particular attention to anyone asking you to click on a link or attachment, especially if the email requests sensitive information, and pay close attention to the email address (e.g., look for misspellings). It is also important that you check the recipient's email address when replying to emails to ensure it is legitimate. Also consider taking steps such as carrying only essential documents with you, being aware of how and with whom you are sharing your personal information, and shredding receipts, statements, and other sensitive information once you no longer need them.
