RE: Important Security Notification. Please read this entire letter.

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Huffmaster Management, Inc. (the "Company") is writing to inform you regarding a recent data security incident. On October 13, 2023, the Company learned of an incident where personal identification information was accidentally sent to a single employee of the Company. The Company investigated the incident and confirmed the employee that received the personal identification information in error has deleted the information. The Company did not send the personal identification information to any other individuals, and the Company's network and systems remain secure. Out of an abundance of caution, the Company is informing employees whose information was contained in the information via this letter. This letter includes instructions to allow affected employees to enroll in complimentary credit monitoring through Experian, at no cost to the affected employees. If you are receiving this letter, it means your information was contained in the file.

What Happened? On October 13, 2023, the Company learned of an incident where personal identification information was accidentally sent to a single employee of the Company. The Company investigated the incident and confirmed the employee that received the personal identification information in error has deleted the information. The Company did not send the personal identification information to any other individuals, and the Company's network and systems remain secure.

What Information Was Involved? The personal identification information included your name, salary information, social security number, date of birth, and mailing address.

What Are We Doing? We take the protection of your personal information seriously and are taking steps to prevent a similar occurrence. We are also providing you with two years of complimentary credit monitoring through Experian, at no cost to the affected employees. The instructions to enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring are contained in this letter. At this time, the Company has no additional updates regarding this incident.

To help protect your identity, we are offering complimentary access to Experian IdentityWorksSM for 24 months.

If you believe there was fraudulent use of your information as a result of this incident and would like to discuss how you may be able to resolve those issues, please reach out to an Experian agent. If, after discussing your situation with an agent, it is determined that identity restoration support is needed then an Experian Identity Restoration agent is available to work with you to investigate and resolve each incident of fraud that occurred from the date of the incident (including, as appropriate, helping you with contacting credit grantors to dispute charges and close accounts; assisting you in placing a freeze on your credit file with the three major credit bureaus; and assisting you with contacting government agencies to help restore your identity to its proper condition).

Please note that Identity Restoration is available to you for 24 months from the date of this letter and does not require any action on your part at this time. The Terms and Conditions for this offer are located at www.ExperianIDWorks.com/restoration.

While identity restoration assistance is immediately available to you, we also encourage you to activate the fraud detection tools available through Experian IdentityWorks as a complimentary 24-month membership. This product provides you with superior identity detection and resolution of identity theft. To start monitoring your personal information, please follow the steps below:

Other Steps You Can Take to Further Protect Your Information

- Review Account Statements and Report Suspicious Activity: Examine your account statements and credit reports for suspicious activity, and promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained if you detect suspicious activity.

You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, including your state attorney general and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). To file a complaint with the FTC, go to IdentityTheft.gov or call 1-877-ID-THEFT (877-438-4338). For more information, visit <https://www.ftc.gov> or contact the FTC at 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580.

- Obtain and Monitor Credit Report: A free copy of your credit report is available from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months. Obtain your credit report by visiting <http://www.annualcreditreport.com>, calling toll-free 877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You can access the request form at <https://www.annualcreditreport.com/requestReport/requestForm.action>.

You can elect to purchase a copy of your credit report or receive more information by contacting one of the three national credit reporting agencies listed below:

- Consider Placing a Fraud Alert on Credit Report: A fraud alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. The initial alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least 90 days. Contact any of the three credit reporting agencies identified above to place a fraud alert on your credit report. For more information, visit <http://www.annualcreditreport.com> or contact the FTC or the credit reporting agencies listed above.
- Consider Placing a Security Freeze on Credit File: A security freeze (also known as a credit freeze) makes it harder for someone to open a new account in your name and prevents potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. To place a security freeze, you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you including your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, current and previous addresses, a copy of your state-issued identification card, and a recent utility bill, bank statement, or insurance statement. There is no charge to request a security freeze or to remove a security freeze. For more information, contact the FTC and/or the credit reporting agencies listed above.
