Re: Supplemental Notification of Data Security Incident

Dear Madam/Sir:

We represent Saint Louis University (“SLU”) in connection with an incident that may have involved the personal information of three (3) Maryland residents. SLU is reporting the incident pursuant to MD. CODE ANN., COM. LAW § 14-3504(h). This notice will be supplemented, if necessary, with any new significant facts discovered subsequent to this submission. While SLU is notifying you of this incident, SLU does not waive any rights or defenses relating to the incident, this notice, or the applicability of Maryland law on personal jurisdiction.

NATURE OF THE INCIDENT

On March 2, 2023, Saint Louis University (“SLU”) identified suspicious activity involving email accounts belonging to SLU employees and students. Polsinelli LLP, legal counsel for SLU, engaged a forensic investigation firm to investigate and confirm the security of SLU’s email tenant. The forensic investigation found potentially unauthorized access to SLU email accounts at various times from December 2022 - July 2023. Polsinelli LLP engaged an e-discovery firm to search the email accounts for any personal information that could have been viewed during the periods of unauthorized access. SLU’s investigation subsequently determined that personal information belonging to Maryland residents could have been involved. The information for Maryland residents varied by individual, but could have included names, dates of birth, driver’s license number, online credentials, and/or medical information.

NOTICE TO MARYLAND RESIDENTS

As of today, March 15, 2024, SLU has notified three (3) Maryland residents via written notification letter. The notification was not delayed by law enforcement. The notification letter includes information on credit and security freezes, and a contact number the individuals can call should they have questions or require assistance. For the individual whose driver’s license number was involved, the notification letter includes one year of complimentary credit monitoring and identity theft protection through Experian. Enclosed is a copy of the notice that was sent to the majority of the Maryland residents via first-class United States mail.

STEPS TAKEN RELATING TO THE INCIDENT

Upon learning of the incident, SLU secured the email accounts and worked with a forensic firm to assist in its investigation and confirm the security of its email systems. SLU is notifying potentially involved individuals today. In the notification letters, SLU provided additional steps individuals could take to protect themselves against fraudulent activity and identity theft. Finally, SLU is reviewing its technical safeguards.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or if I can provide you with any further information concerning this matter.

Very truly yours,

Pasha Sternberg

RE: NOTICE OF A DATA BREACH

Dear <<First_Name>>:

Saint Louis University ("SLU") respects the privacy of your information, which is why we are writing to advise you of an incident that may have involved some of your personal information. At this time, we have no reason to believe that your personal information has been misused for the purpose of committing fraud or identity theft. Nonetheless, we want to make you aware of the incident and provide you with guidance on what you can do to protect yourself, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On March 2, 2023, we became aware of suspicious activity involving SLU email accounts. Upon discovering the activity, we began an internal investigation. We also engaged a forensic security firm to investigate the security of our email environment and computer systems. As a result of our investigation, we confirmed that certain email accounts containing your personal information were accessed at various times from December 2022 through July 2023. The forensic investigation confirmed the unauthorized activity was limited to those email accounts and a limited number of documents stored in SLU's SharePoint and OneDrive platforms. In other words, the incident did not involve any other systems or data.

What Information Was Involved? We searched the relevant email accounts for any personal information that could have been viewed, and on April 24, 2023, we learned that some of your information was contained in one of the compromised email accounts. The type of information that may have been viewed varied for each individual, but the information that may have been viewed included your <<b2b_text_1(name, data elements)>>.

You should also promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidents of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, including the police and your state's attorney general, as well as the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC").

You may wish to review the tips provided by the FTC on fraud alerts, security/credit freezes and steps you can take to avoid identity theft. For more information and to contact the FTC, please visit www.ftc.gov/idtheft or call 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338). You may also contact the FTC at Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580.

Credit Reports: You may obtain a free copy of your credit report once every 12 months from each of the three national credit reporting agencies by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, by calling toll-free 1-877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You can print a copy of the request form at <https://www.annualcreditreport.com/manualRequestForm.action>.

Alternatively, you may elect to purchase a copy of your credit report by contacting one of the three national credit reporting agencies. Fraud Alerts: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit report for one (1) year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any new accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three national credit reporting agencies using the contact information listed above. Additional information is available at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Credit and Security Freezes: You may have the right to place a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. Since the instructions for how to establish a credit freeze differ from state to state, please contact the three major credit reporting companies as specified below to find out more information:
