Notice of Data Event[

Dear <<Name 1>> <<Name 2>>:

Welltok, Inc. writes on behalf of the Entergy Corporation Companies' Benefits Plus Medical Plan (the "Plan") to inform you of an event that may affect the security of your personal information. Aetna Life Insurance Company ("Aetna") administers the Plan and uses Welltok, Inc. ("Welltok") to provide an online contact-management platform to enable healthcare clients to provide patients and members with important notices and communications. Welltok received your information in connection with its provision of these services. Although we have no indication of actual fraud or misuse of your information, we are providing you with information about the incident, our response to it, and resources available to you to help protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened. On July 26, 2023, Welltok learned that one of its servers, called the MOVEit Transfer server, was potentially accessed by unknown third parties. Welltok examined its systems and networks with the assistance of cybersecurity specialists, and determined on August 11, 2023 that an unknown actor had accessed and removed certain data from the MOVEit Transfer server on May 30, 2023. Aetna was notified of the event in September, and engaged a number of teams to determine which members were affected by the event. The Plan received notice on February 8, 2024 of this event, and that your information was included in that which was removed from the server.

What Information Was Involved. The following types of your information may have been impacted: your name, member ID, date of birth, treatment/diagnosis information, provider name, and patient ID. It is important to note that no Social Security numbers or financial account information was included in the compromised files.

What We Are Doing. We, Aetna, and your Plan take this event and the security of personal information in our care very seriously. Welltok engaged a third-party forensics investigation firm, patched servers, investigated and assessed the security of its systems, and is reviewing and enhancing its existing policies and procedures related to data privacy to reduce the likelihood of a similar future event. As an added precaution, Welltok is providing you with access to 12 months of credit monitoring and identity protection services provided by Experian. A description of services and instructions on how to enroll can be found within the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information. Please note that you must complete the enrollment process yourself, as we cannot enroll you in these services on your behalf.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by regularly reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. You may also review the information contained in the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information. There you will also find more information on the credit monitoring and identity restoration services we are making available to you. While Welltok will cover the cost of these services, you will need to complete the activation process. Enrollment instructions are included in this letter.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial, as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
