Re: Notice of Data Event

To Whom It May Concern:

We represent Financial Business and Consumer Solutions, Inc. ("FBCS") located at 330 South Warminster Road, Suite 353, Hatboro, Pennsylvania 19040, and are writing to notify your office on behalf of certain FBCS clients of an incident that may affect the security of certain personal information relating to thirty-eight thousand four hundred twenty-five (38,425) Maryland residents. The list of certain FBCS clients for which this notification applies can be made available upon request. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, neither FBCS, nor its clients, waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

FBCS is a third-party debt collection agency and receives personal information from its clients, which is used to collect debts on behalf of its clients.

On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. This incident did not impact computer systems outside of FBCS's network, including those of its clients. FBCS immediately took steps to secure the impacted environment and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party computer forensics specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that the environment was subject to unauthorized access between February 14 and February 26, 2024, and the unauthorized actor had the ability to view or acquire certain information on the FBCS network during the period of access. FBCS undertook a comprehensive review of the data at risk to determine if any sensitive information could be affected and to whom it related. FBCS learned that certain information provided by customer organizations related to individuals may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. FBCS has seen no evidence of misuse of any information related to this incident.

Starting on April 4, 2024, FBCS began providing notice of this incident to potentially impacted clients, and as the investigation and review of the data continued, reported to its clients what specific data of theirs was impacted. FBCS then offered to provide notice on behalf of its clients to potentially impacted individuals as required.

The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, Social Security number, date of birth, and account information.

Notice to Maryland Residents

Beginning on April 26, 2024, FBCS began providing written notice of this incident to individuals, which includes thirty-eight thousand four hundred twenty-five (38,425) Maryland residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, FBCS moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of FBCS systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Further, FBCS notified federal law enforcement regarding the event. FBCS is also working to implement additional safeguards in a newly built environment. FBCS is providing access to credit monitoring services for one (1) year, through Cyex, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, FBCS is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their credit card company and/or bank. FBCS is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

FBCS is providing notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Notice of Data << Event/Breach>>

Dear <<Name 1>>:

Financial Business and Consumer Solutions, Inc. ("FBCS") is writing to notify you of an incident that may affect the privacy of some of your information. FBCS is a debt collection agency, and this letter provides details of the incident and the resources available to you to help protect your information should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. This incident did not impact computer systems outside of FBCS's network. We immediately took steps to secure the impacted environment and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party computer forensics specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that the environment was subject to unauthorized access between February 14 and February 26, 2024, and the unauthorized actor had the ability to view or acquire certain information on the FBCS network during the period of access. Therefore, FBCS undertook a comprehensive review of the data at risk to assess if any sensitive information could be affected and to whom it related. We are notifying you because certain information related to you may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. This notification was not delayed as a result of a law enforcement investigation.

What Information Was Involved? The types of information potentially affected by this incident include your: <<Data Elements>>. FBCS has no indication that your information has been misused in relation to this event.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Re: Notice of Data Event

To Whom It May Concern:

We represent Financial Business and Consumer Solutions, Inc. ("FBCS") located at 330 South Warminster Road, Suite 353, Hatboro, Pennsylvania 19040, and are writing to notify your office on behalf of certain FBCS clients of an incident that may affect the security of certain personal information relating to thirty-eight thousand four hundred twenty-five (38,425) Maryland residents. The list of certain FBCS clients for which this notification applies can be made available upon request. The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, neither FBCS, nor its clients, waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

FBCS is a third-party debt collection agency and receives personal information from its clients, which is used to collect debts on behalf of its clients.

On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. This incident did not impact computer systems outside of FBCS's network, including those of its clients. FBCS immediately took steps to secure the impacted environment and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party computer forensics specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that the environment was subject to unauthorized access between February 14 and February 26, 2024, and the unauthorized actor had the ability to view or acquire certain information on the FBCS network during the period of access. FBCS undertook a comprehensive review of the data at risk to determine if any sensitive information could be affected and to whom it related. FBCS learned that certain information provided by customer organizations related to individuals may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. FBCS has seen no evidence of misuse of any information related to this incident.

Starting on April 4, 2024, FBCS began providing notice of this incident to potentially impacted clients, and as the investigation and review of the data continued, reported to its clients what specific data of theirs was impacted. FBCS then offered to provide notice on behalf of its clients to potentially impacted individuals as required.

The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, Social Security number, date of birth, and account information.

Notice to Maryland Residents

Beginning on April 26, 2024, FBCS began providing written notice of this incident to individuals, which includes thirty-eight thousand four hundred twenty-five (38,425) Maryland residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, FBCS moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of FBCS systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Further, FBCS notified federal law enforcement regarding the event. FBCS is also working to implement additional safeguards in a newly built environment. FBCS is providing access to credit monitoring services for one (1) year, through Cyex, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, FBCS is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their credit card company and/or bank. FBCS is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

FBCS is providing notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Dear <<Name 1>>:

This letter provides details of the incident and the resources available to you to help protect your information should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. We are notifying you because certain information related to you may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. This notification was not delayed as a result of a law enforcement investigation.

What Information Was Involved? The types of information potentially affected by this incident include your: <<Data Elements>>. FBCS has no indication that your information has been misused in relation to this event.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Dear <<Name 1>>:

FBCS is writing on behalf of <<Data Owner>> to notify you of an incident that affects the privacy of some of your information. This letter provides details of the incident and the resources available to you to help protect your information should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. This incident did not impact computer systems outside of FBCS’s network, including any systems belonging to <<Data Owner>>. We immediately took steps to secure the impacted environment and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party computer forensics specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the incident. Therefore, FBCS undertook a comprehensive review of the data at risk to assess if any sensitive information could be affected and to whom it related. We are notifying you because certain information related to you may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. This notification was not delayed as a result of a law enforcement investigation.

What Information Was Involved? The types of information potentially affected by this incident include your: <<Data Elements>>. FBCS has no indication that your information has been misused in relation to this event.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Notice of Data << Event/Breach>>

Dear <<Name 1>>:

Financial Business and Consumer Solutions, Inc. ("FBCS") is writing to notify you of an incident that may affect the privacy of some of your information. FBCS is a debt collection agency, and this letter provides details of the incident and the resources available to you to help protect your information should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. This incident did not impact computer systems outside of FBCS's network. We immediately took steps to secure the impacted environment and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party computer forensics specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that the environment was subject to unauthorized access between February 14 and February 26, 2024, and the unauthorized actor had the ability to view or acquire certain information on the FBCS network during the period of access. Therefore, FBCS undertook a comprehensive review of the data at risk to assess if any sensitive information could be affected and to whom it related. We are notifying you because certain information related to you may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. This notification was not delayed as a result of a law enforcement investigation.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Re: Comcast/FBCS Supplemental Data Breach Notification

Dear Attorney General Anthony G. Brown:

We write to provide supplemental notice regarding a data security incident (“Security Incident”) experienced by Financial Business and Consumer Solutions, Inc. (“FBCS”) between February 14 and 26, 2024. We understand that your office was previously notified of the Security Incident by FBCS on or around April 26, 2024, and that FBCS may have provided supplemental notifications to your office thereafter (we know that FBCS has provided at least some state authorities with numerous initial and supplemental notifications between April and July 2024). Comcast Cable Communications Corporation and its affiliated entity (collectively “Comcast”) previously engaged FBCS for debt-collection services. Although FBCS initially informed Comcast that its data was not affected by the Security Incident at FBCS, FBCS more recently notified Comcast that in fact personal information pertaining to some current and former Comcast customers was “potentially accessed and exfiltrated.” The Security Incident occurred entirely on FBCS systems and did not involve any compromise of any Comcast systems. The Security Incident impacts personal information pertaining to 303 of Comcast current or former customers who are Maryland residents.

FBCS, through counsel, informed Comcast that it would provide you and other state authorities with supplemental notice via letter that included reference to the potential impact to some current and former Comcast customers. This supplemental notice would state that the Security Incident affected a larger number of individuals than FBCS previously reported, including individuals associated with numerous FBCS client entities. However, when Comcast recently inquired with FBCS’s counsel as to whether FBCS had completed those supplemental notifications, we learned that FBCS had declared bankruptcy and no longer would commit to completing the supplemental notifications. Accordingly, Comcast sends this letter to your office to provide supplemental notice regarding the FBCS Security Incident’s potential impact on some current and former Comcast customers, to inform you of recent development regarding the Security Incident, and to describe the steps Comcast has taken to notify affected individuals and provide credit monitoring at no cost to the individual.

FBCS's Communications to Comcast

According to FBCS, the Security Incident involved the deployment of ransomware on FBCS's computer systems and potential access to and exfiltration of FBCS files containing personal information. Per FBCS, the Security Incident occurred between February 14 and February 26, 2024. Comcast understands that FBCS published a notice regarding the Security Incident on its website, <https://www.fbc-inc.com/cyber-incident/>, distributed notice to national media, and provided initial and supplemental notifications to numerous state authorities. Further information regarding the Security Incident, which we understand that FBCS previously intended to send to you as part of a supplemental notice, is provided below in the section titled "Nature of the Security Incident (Provided By FBCS)." All of this information is from FBCS.

FBCS first informed Comcast of the Security Incident on March 13, 2024. FBCS stated at that time that it was still investigating the Security Incident and had not yet identified impact to Comcast's personal information. On April 19, 2024, FBCS further informed Comcast that it had not identified impact to Comcast personal information. However, on July 15, 2024, FBCS informed Comcast for the first time that personal information of some current and former Comcast customers "may have been accessed and/or exfiltrated during the incident." FBCS also informed Comcast that it has notified law enforcement and credit reporting agencies of this incident. On July 17, 2024, FBCS notified Comcast of the specific current or former Comcast customers whose data may have been impacted.

During its July 2024 communications with Comcast, FBCS stated that it would not provide notification to affected individuals due to FBCS's "compromised liquidity." At the same time, FBCS stated that it had been providing initial and supplemental notifications to state authorities as its investigation of the Security Incident progressed, and offered to continue to provide such notifications provided that the relevant client entity (i.e., Comcast and FBCS's other affected clients) agreed to be named. Comcast agreed to be named in FBCS's further supplemental notices to state authorities—including in a letter to be sent to your office—and FBCS represented to Comcast that it would send such notices on or around September 16, 2024, as part of a large wave of notices pertaining to affected FBCS customer entities. Comcast thereafter provided information requested by FBCS to complete those notifications (for example, the last-known address of affected Comcast current and former customers).

On September 16, 2024, Comcast inquired with FBCS's counsel as to whether the supplemental notifications had been delivered. FBCS's counsel informed Comcast that FBCS had filed for bankruptcy protection and no longer would commit to providing any notifications.¹ This was the first time FBCS informed Comcast that it would not honor its prior commitment to provide supplemental notifications to state authorities. Given these events, Comcast is sending this letter to you to serve as a supplement to FBCS's prior notifications.

Notifications to Individuals

As stated above, on July 17, 2024, FBCS notified Comcast of the current and former Comcast customers whose personal information may have been affected by FBCS's Security Incident. FBCS stated that the potentially affected personal information included names, addresses, Social Security numbers, dates of birth, Comcast account numbers, and internal ID numbers used at FBCS. Given that FBCS refused to provide notification letters to affected individuals, Comcast sent notification letters to the affected current and former Comcast customers on and around August 16, 2024. Those letters, a sample of which is attached as Appendix A hereto, included an offer of a 12-month subscription in identity theft protection services.

As indicated, Comcast provided notice to Maryland residents. The table below provides more information regarding Comcast's notifications to state residents.

Number of Individuals in this State	Number of Total Impacted Individuals	Data Elements Impacted	Credit Monitoring Type	Date Individual Notice Provided
303	237,703	Address, Social Security number, date of birth	Free 12-month identity theft protection and credit monitoring services	August 16, 2024

As we note above, we understand from discussions with FBCS that the Security Incident involves personal information pertaining to a large number of individuals associated with numerous FBCS clients. FBCS specifically represented that the affected Comcast current and former customers made up only a relatively small portion of the total affected population. However, FBCS declined to provide Comcast with the total number of individuals or customer entities affected.

Nature of the Security Incident (Narrative Provided By FBCS)

The summary provided below was provided by FBCS to Comcast in a draft supplemental notification that FBCS intended to provide to your office. Please note that Comcast does not have independent knowledge of the narrative provided below, or of any other details about the occurrence of the Security Incident at FBCS.

FBCS is a third-party debt collection agency and receives personal information from its clients, which is used to collect debts on behalf of its clients.

On February 26, 2024, FBCS discovered unauthorized access to certain systems in its network. This incident did not impact computer systems outside of FBCS's network, including those of its clients. FBCS immediately took steps to secure the impacted environment and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party computer forensics specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that the environment was subject to unauthorized access between February 14, 2024 and February 26, 2024, and the unauthorized actor had the ability to view or acquire certain information on the FBCS network during the period of access. FBCS undertook a comprehensive review of the data at risk to determine if any sensitive information could be affected and to whom it related. FBCS learned that certain information provided by customer organizations related to individuals may have been accessed or exfiltrated during the incident. FBCS has seen no evidence of misuse of any information related to this incident.

Starting on April 4, 2024, FBCS began providing notice of this incident to potentially impacted clients, and as the investigation and review of the data continued, reported to its clients what specific data of theirs was impacted. FBCS had previously provided notice on behalf of its clients to potentially impacted individuals. On or around July 10, 2024, FBCS discovered additional individuals whose information was potentially involved and reported this update to relevant clients. As a result of compromised liquidity, FBCS was unable to continue to offer to provide notice on behalf of data owners to potentially impacted individuals. FBCS offered to continue to assist in the process of updating regulators for the ease of data owners and regulators.

Should you have questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at (202) 973-4282 or michaelborgia@dwt.com. Please note that by providing this notice, Comcast does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law, the applicability of the Maryland data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Dear <<Full Name>>:

We are writing to notify you of a data security incident involving some of your information that occurred at Financial Business and Consumer Solutions (FBCS), a third party service provider previously used by Comcast. Although FBCS experienced the security incident, we are taking initiative to support any former and present customers who have been impacted. This notice explains the incident, measures we have taken and some steps you can take in response.

What Happened? On March 13, 2024, FBCS notified Comcast that it had experienced a data breach incident, but that Comcast consumer data was not impacted. However, on July 17, 2024, FBCS notified Comcast of its new finding that Comcast data was impacted. FBCS provided the following information: “[f]rom February 14 and February 26, 2024, an unauthorized party gained access to FBCS’s computer network and some of its computers. During this time, the unauthorized party downloaded data from FBCS systems and encrypted some systems as part of a ransomware attack. Upon discovering the attack on February 26, 2024, FBCS launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party cybersecurity specialists. In the course of that investigation, FBCS discovered that the files downloaded by the unauthorized party contained personal information, including personal information about you. FBCS also notified the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) of this attack.”

This security incident occurred entirely at FBCS and not at Xfinity or on Comcast systems. FBCS notified Comcast that due to its current financial status, it would no longer be able to provide notices or credit monitoring protection to individuals impacted by the incident. As such, we are contacting you directly and providing support services. FBCS received your information because they previously provided Comcast with collections-related services for delinquent payments until 2020, when Comcast ceased working with FBCS. The compromised information about you dates from around 2021, as FBCS is subject to data retention requirements beyond Comcast’s working relationship with FBCS.

What Information Was Involved? FBCS’s investigation discovered that files downloaded by the unauthorized party included your name, address, Social Security number, date of birth, and your Comcast account number and ID numbers used internally at FBCS. FBCS states that it has no indication that any personal information compromised during this incident has been further misused.

What We Are Doing. We are offering you complimentary identity theft protection services for at least 12 months through membership in CyEx Identity Defense Complete, which includes credit monitoring services. Since FBCS informed Comcast of this incident on July 17, 2024, Comcast has been working with FBCS to understand how the incident occurred and to notify affected individuals (including you) and appropriate governmental authorities. As stated above, Comcast no longer uses FBCS. Notifications about this incident have not been delayed due to law enforcement investigation.

What You Can Do. In addition to enrolling in the identify theft protection services referenced above at no cost to you, we encourage you (as we always encourage all our customers) to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity. Please review the “Additional Steps You Can Take” information enclosed with this letter. We also encourage all of our customers to better protect their Xfinity accounts by signing up for two-step verification.¹ All customers should remain alert for unusual or suspicious emails or telephone calls. Information about common scams and how to protect yourself and your Xfinity account are available on our website.²

For More Information. We sincerely regret any inconvenience caused by this incident. If you have any questions, please call 888-769-8426, Monday through Friday, between 9:00 am and 9:00 pm, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

Sincerely,

Comcast

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses listed above.

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information. After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security Card, pay stub, or W2;
8. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.
