Re: Client – Incident Notification

Dear Mr. Brown:

McDonald Hopkins PLC represents Lamont Hanley & Associates (“LH”). LH is a New Hampshire company specializing in accounts receivable management solutions. I am writing to provide notification of an incident at LH that may affect the security of personal information of approximately twenty-six (26) Maryland residents. LH is reporting this incident on behalf of its affected business partners whom LH received data from while providing accounts receivable services on their behalf. By providing this notice, LH does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maryland law or personal jurisdiction.

On June 20, 2023, LH discovered one employee email account (the “Compromised Account”) was accessed by an unauthorized party. Upon detecting the incident, LH commenced an immediate and thorough investigation, contained and secured the email environment, and changed the password to the Compromised Account. As part of the investigation, LH engaged external cybersecurity professionals to investigate the extent of the incident and what, if any, sensitive data, including personal and/or health information may have been accessed and/or acquired by the unauthorized party. The investigation did not identify evidence of specific data access or acquisition by an unauthorized party, but could not conclude with one-hundred percent certainty that data within the account was not accessed or acquired by an unauthorized party. Therefore, out of an abundance of caution, LH conducted an extensive review of the Compromised Account to determine what data may have been involved.

After a thorough forensic investigation and comprehensive manual review of all emails and attachments within the Compromised Account, on February 28, 2024, LH determined individual personal information was present within the Compromised Account. LH immediately notified affected business partners about the incident, and offered to notify affected individuals on their behalf. The information involved includes individual name, Social Security Number, and medical information.

LH has no indication that any of the information has been used for identity theft or financial fraud. Nevertheless, out of an abundance of caution, LH wanted to inform you (and the affected business partners and residents) of the incident and to explain the steps that it is taking to help safeguard the affected residents against identity fraud. LH is providing the affected residents with written notification of this incident commencing on or about May 2, 2024 in substantially the same form as the letter attached hereto. LH is also offering the affected residents complimentary membership with a credit monitoring service if their SSN was involved. LH will advise the affected residents to always remain vigilant in reviewing financial account statements for fraudulent or irregular activity on a regular basis. LH will advise the affected residents about the process for placing a fraud alert and/or security freeze on their credit files and obtaining free credit reports. The affected residents are also being provided with the contact information for the consumer reporting agencies and the Federal Trade Commission.

At LH, protecting the privacy of personal information is a top priority. LH is committed to maintaining the privacy of personal information in its possession and has taken many precautions to safeguard it. LH continually evaluates and modifies its practices to enhance the security and privacy of the personal information it maintains.

What We Are Doing.

Upon detecting the incident, LH commenced an immediate and thorough investigation, contained and secured the email environment, and changed the password to the Compromised Account. As part of the investigation, LH engaged external cybersecurity professionals to investigate the extent of the incident and what, if any, sensitive data, including personal information may have been accessed and/or acquired by the unauthorized party. The investigation did not identify evidence of specific data access or acquisition by an unauthorized party but could not conclude with one-hundred percent certainty that data within the account was not accessed or acquired by an unauthorized party. Therefore, out of an abundance of caution, we conducted an extensive review of Compromised Account to determine what data may have been involved.

After a thorough forensic investigation and comprehensive manual review of all data within the Compromised Account, on February 28, 2024, we determined your personal information was present within the Compromised Account. We notified [REDACTED] on [REDACTED], and worked with them to notify you of this incident.

2. Placing a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File.

Whether or not you choose to use the complimentary credit monitoring services, we recommend that you place an initial one-year "Fraud Alert" on your credit files, at no charge. A fraud alert tells creditors to contact you personally before they open any new accounts. To place a fraud alert, call any one of the three major credit bureaus at the numbers listed below. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, they will notify the others.

3. Consider Placing a Security Freeze on Your Credit File.

If you are very concerned about becoming a victim of fraud or identity theft, you may request a "Security Freeze" be placed on your credit file, at no charge. A security freeze prohibits, with certain specific exceptions, the consumer reporting agencies from releasing your credit report or any information from it without your express authorization. You may place a security freeze on your credit report by contacting all three nationwide credit reporting companies at the numbers below and following the stated directions or by sending a request in writing, by mail, to all three credit reporting companies:

Equifax Security Freeze

P.O. Box 105788

TransUnion Security Freeze

P.O. Box 2000
Woodlyn, PA 19094
<https://www.transunion.com/credit-freeze>
1-888-909-8872

In order to place the security freeze, you will need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information. After receiving your freeze request, each credit reporting company will send you a confirmation letter containing a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

If your personal information has been used to file a false tax return, to open an account or to attempt to open an account in your name or to commit fraud or other crimes against you, you may file a police report in the City in which you currently reside.

If you do place a security freeze prior to enrolling in the credit monitoring service as described above, you will need to remove the freeze in order to sign up for the credit monitoring service. After you sign up for the credit monitoring service, you may refreeze your credit file.

4. Obtaining a Free Credit Report.

Under federal law, you are entitled to one free credit report every 12 months from each of the above three major nationwide credit reporting companies. Call 1-877-322-8228 or request your free credit reports online at www.annualcreditreport.com. Once you receive your credit reports, review them for discrepancies. Identify any accounts you did not open or inquiries from creditors that you did not authorize. Verify all information is correct. If you have questions or notice incorrect information, contact the credit reporting company.

5. Additional Helpful Resources.

Even if you do not find any suspicious activity on your initial credit reports, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recommends that you check your credit reports periodically. Checking your credit report periodically can help you spot problems and address them quickly.

If you find suspicious activity on your credit reports or have reason to believe your information is being misused, call your local law enforcement agency and file a police report. Be sure to obtain a copy of the police report, as many creditors will want the information it contains to absolve you of the fraudulent debts. You may also file a complaint with the FTC by contacting them on the web at www.ftc.gov/idtheft, by phone at 1-877-IDTHEFT (1-877-438-4338), or by mail at Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580. Your complaint will be added to the FTC's Identity Theft Data Clearinghouse, where it will be accessible to law enforcement for their investigations. In addition, you may obtain information from the FTC about fraud alerts and security freezes.

Dear Mr. Brown:

McDonald Hopkins PLC represents Lamont Hanley & Associates (“LH”). LH is a New Hampshire company specializing in accounts receivable management solutions. Nevertheless, out of an abundance of caution, LH wanted to inform you (and the affected business partners and residents) of the incident and to explain the steps that it is taking to help safeguard the affected residents against identity fraud. LH provided the affected residents with written notification of this incident commencing on or about May 2, 2024 in substantially the same form as the letter attached hereto.
