RE: Notice of Data Breach

To Whom It May Concern:

The City of Columbus (the "City"), recently discovered that it was the victim of a cybersecurity incident that may affect the security of personal information regarding residents in Maryland. We are writing to inform you of the incident, in compliance with Maryland data breach notification laws.

On July 18, 2024, the City discovered that it had experienced a cybersecurity incident in which a foreign cyber threat actor attempted to disrupt the City's IT infrastructure, in a potential effort to deploy ransomware and solicit a ransom payment from the City. Through the City's continuing investigation, it has determined that the threat actor gained unauthorized access to the City's technology infrastructure, allowing the threat actor to view and access certain sensitive personal information concerning current and former employees, residents, or other individuals including visitors who may have interacted with the City. This information may have included first and last name, date of birth, address, bank account information, driver's licenses, City employee account number and position, City payroll records, Social Security number, and other identifying information ("PII"). The incident was discovered expeditiously, cyber security experts were promptly retained, and proper security measures were conducted to contain the incident.

Upon discovery of the attack, the City engaged legal counsel and a data breach remediation firm to conduct a thorough investigation into the scope and extent of the illicit attack. Although an investigation is still ongoing, the City recognizes that the files' security may have been impacted, and is providing notice, to both you and potentially impacted Maryland residents, in accordance with state data breach notification laws. The investigation is still ongoing, but at the time of this notice, one hundred and forty-two (142) Maryland residents have been identified, two (2) of which are minor dependents. We foresee the potential that the number of Maryland residents who are impacted may as our investigation progresses.

The Department of Technology, working with federal authorities and cybersecurity experts, has been engaged in a methodical process to ensure that its technology systems are hardened against further breach before bringing them back online. The City's Department of Technology will continue to work closely with our cyber security experts to ensure we remain vigilant in the security of our operations.

The City will provide affected individuals notice of the security incident via U.S. mail on September 11, 2024, or via approved methods of substitute notice. Pursuant to applicable state law substitute notice requirements, the City posted substitute notice on their website on August 16, 2024, which you can find a copy of here:

- City of Columbus- Cybersecurity Home Page: <https://www.columbus.gov/Services/Cybersecurity>
- Notice for Impacted Individuals: <https://www.columbus.gov/Services/Cybersecurity/Experian-for-Impacted-Individuals>

Additionally, the City has secured the services of Experian, to establish 24-month no-cost credit monitoring for impacted individuals, as well as a call center to respond to any questions affected individuals may have about the cyberattack. A copy of the direct data breach notification letter, as well as the minor dependent notification letter, along with instructions for how affected individuals can place and remove a security freeze, is enclosed with this letter.

Thank you for your immediate attention to this situation, as well as your understanding in the short-term. Our cyber security, as well as the safety and stability of our residents, visitors, vendors, and employees, is of the utmost importance to us and we remain committed to protecting the privacy and security of their information. RE: Important Security Notification. Please read this entire letter.

Dear Parent or Guardian of an Impacted Minor Dependent of Maryland,

The City of Columbus (the "City"), recently discovered that it was the victim of a cybersecurity incident that may affect the security of your minor dependent's personal information. We want to provide you with information about the incident, steps we are taking in response, and steps you may take to guard against identity theft and fraud.

What Happened? On July 18, 2024, the City discovered that it had experienced a cybersecurity incident in which a foreign cyber threat actor attempted to disrupt the City's IT infrastructure, in a possible effort to deploy ransomware and solicit a ransom payment from the City. The City's continuing investigation of the cyber security incident has determined that the threat actor gained unauthorized access to the City's technology infrastructure. Further discovery indicated the incident allowed the threat actor to view and access certain sensitive personal information. The incident was discovered expeditiously, cyber security experts were retained, and proper security measures were conducted to contain the incident.

What Information Was Involved? The information subject to the incident may have included sensitive personal information, such as your minor dependent's first and last name, date of birth, address, Social Security number, bank account information, driver's licenses, and other identifying information.

What Are We Doing? We take the protection of your minor dependent's personal information seriously and are taking steps to prevent a similar occurrence. Upon learning of the incident, the City's Department of Technology quickly identified the threat and took action by severing internet connectivity and immediately mobilizing a response team. The City engaged cyber security experts to guide them through this occurrence, and while the threat actor's activity was disrupted, an investigation is still ongoing to determine the amount of City data that may have been accessed. Law enforcement was notified, and the City has retained legal counsel to ensure that response and remediation comply with all federal, state and local laws and regulations.

Additionally, the City is in the process of conducting a full forensic security audit to determine the extent of the incident. The Department of Technology, working with federal authorities and cybersecurity experts, has been engaged in a methodical process to ensure that its technology systems are hardened against further breach before bringing them back online. Thankfully, the emergency systems have remained operational throughout these efforts to protect and restore IT connectivity. The incident remains ongoing and the investigation is in its earliest stages. The City's Department of Technology will continue to work closely with our cyber security experts to ensure we remain vigilant in the security of our operations.

What Actions You Can Take? As always, we recommend that you be on the alert for suspicious activity related to your minor dependent's financial accounts and credit reports. While minors under the age of eighteen typically do not have credit files, the following information relates to protecting one's credit once established:

We encourage you to regularly monitor your minor dependent's statements and records to ensure there are no transactions or other activities that you did not initiate or authorize. You should report any suspicious activity to the appropriate service provider. If you observe unusual activity on any debit/credit card or you believe your minor dependent's personal bank account shows signs of compromise – we advise you to close out those accounts and request new cards and account credentials.

Additionally, you should report incidents of suspected identity theft to your local law enforcement, the Federal Trade Commission, and your state attorney general. To file a complaint with the FTC, go to IdentityTheft.gov or call 1-877-ID-THEFT (1 (877) 438-4338). Complaints filed with the FTC will be added to the FTC's Identity Theft

Data Clearinghouse, which is a database made available to law enforcement agencies. Information on how to contact your state attorney general can be found below:

A copy of Identity Theft – A Recovery Plan, a comprehensive guide from the FTC to help you guard against and deal with identity theft, is on the FTC's website at https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0009_identitytheft_a_recovery_plan.pdf.

Request a Social Security Number Search

You can request each of the three national credit reporting agencies perform a manual search for a minor's or protected person's Social Security number to determine if there is an associated credit report. For more information about Child Identity Theft and instructions for requesting a manual Social Security number search, visit the FTC website: <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0040-child-identity-theft>.

Placing a Security Freeze

Any consumer in Maryland may place a free security freeze on his or her credit report by: (i) requesting one in writing by certified mail to the consumer reporting agency, (ii) calling the agency directly, or (iii) submitting a form online directly to the agency. The consumer reporting agency is not allowed to charge a fee to victims for placing, removing for a specific period or party, or removing a security freeze on a credit report. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your minor dependent's credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests made that deal with credit services. We recommend that you work collaboratively with potential lenders, employers and service providers to ensure that you are protecting both your minor dependent's information and the approval status of the applicable request.

In order to place a security freeze on your minor dependent's credit reports, you must contact all three bureaus. For victims of identity theft, there are no fees. Your request to place a security freeze must be to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies: Equifax (www.equifax.com); Experian (www.experian.com); and TransUnion (www.transunion.com), at the addresses below:

Equifax Security Freeze

P.O. Box 105788

P.O. Box 2000

Chester, PA 19022-2000

(888) 909-8872

<https://www.transunion.com/credit-freeze>

The credit reporting agencies have thirty (30) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your minor dependent's credit report, so we recommend placing the freeze as soon as you possibly can.

Removing a Security Freeze

To remove the security freeze, you can either submit the request online, or send a written request to each of the three credit bureaus by mail, secure electronic method, or via their online form, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number). The credit bureaus have thirty (30) business days after receiving your request to remove the security freeze.

Fraud Alerts

As an alternative to a security freeze, you have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on your minor dependent's file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If your minor dependent is a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert on behalf of your minor dependent, please contact any one of the agencies listed below:

Placing a Security Freeze

Any consumer in Maryland may place a free security freeze on his or her credit report by: (i) requesting one in writing by certified mail to the consumer reporting agency, (ii) calling the agency directly, or (iii) submitting a form online directly to the agency. The consumer reporting agency is not allowed to charge a fee to victims for placing, removing for a specific period or party, or removing a security freeze on a credit report. To avoid a fee, the victim may need to send a valid copy of a police report to the consumer reporting agency. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services. We recommend that you work collaboratively with potential lenders, employers and service providers to ensure that you are protecting both your information and the approval status of your applicable request.

In order to place a security freeze on your credit reports, you must contact all three bureaus and pay a fee to each, where applicable. For victims of identity theft, there are no fees. Your request to place a security freeze must be to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies: Equifax (www.equifax.com); Experian (www.experian.com); and TransUnion (www.transunion.com), at the addresses below:

The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report, so we recommend placing the freeze as soon as you possibly can. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

Lifting or Suspending a Security Freeze

To temporarily lift or suspend the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must mail a request, call, request one online, or send a request via electronic media to the credit reporting agencies and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report, or the specific period of time you want the credit report available. The credit reporting agencies shall comply with a request to temporarily lift a security freeze within three (3) business days after receiving such request via mail, or within 15 minutes if the request is received via telephone or secure electronic request.

Removing a Security Freeze

To remove the security freeze, you can either submit the request online, or send a written request to each of the three credit bureaus by mail, secure electronic method, or via their online form, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed
