Re: Zeiger, Tigges & Little, LLP – Data Incident
Our File No. 42766.00119

Dear Sir or Madam:

We are writing to notify you of a data security incident involving 4 Maryland residents. We are submitting this notice on behalf of our client, Zeiger, Tigges & Little, LLP (“Zeiger”).

Nature Of The Security Breach

On July 17, 2024, Zeiger became aware that certain computer files in our environment were copied by a threat actor and the database was encrypted. We immediately launched an extensive investigation, aided by third party computer forensic specialists, to determine the nature and scope of the event and worked quickly to secure our systems, restore access to the information and investigate what happened and whether this resulted in any unauthorized access to information by the threat actor. Through our investigation, we determined that the threat actor gained access to a limited number of our systems and certain files in those systems were accessed. These files may have contained names, dates of birth, home addresses, phone numbers and/or social security information.

Notice is being sent to the 4 Maryland residents subsequent to this letter.

Steps Being Taken Related To The Incident

In an abundance of caution, Zeiger performed a comprehensive review of the contents of the affected systems to determine what information could be contained in the impacted files and to whom the information related. The review remains ongoing. To date, Zeiger has not received reports of any fraudulent misuse of any information potentially impacted by the event.

In addition, Zeiger is offering identity theft protection services through IDX, A ZeroFox Company, the data breach and recovery services expert. IDX identity protection services include: 12 months of credit and
