Re: Incident Notification

Dear Sir or Madam:

We are writing on behalf of our client, Boart Longyear Group, Ltd. ("Boart Longyear"), to notify your office concerning a data security incident.

On August 31, 2024, Boart Longyear identified suspicious activity within the network. Upon discovering the activity, steps were taken to secure the network, an investigation was launched, and a cybersecurity firm was engaged to assist. The investigation determined that, between June 29, 2024 and August 31, 2024, an unauthorized actor gained access to certain files within the network containing some personal information. Boart Longyear reviewed the files that were potentially involved and identified certain files containing the personal information of one Maryland resident, including their name and one or more of the following: National Identification number, Social Security number, driver's license number or other government identification card number, passport number, and/or financial account information.

On March 6, 2025, Boart Longyear mailed a notification letter via First-Class mail to the involved individual in accordance with Md. Code Ann., Com. Law § 14-3504. A copy of the notification letter is enclosed. Boart Longyear is offering credit monitoring and identity theft protection services through Experian to the notice recipient. Boart Longyear has also provided a phone number for individuals to call with questions.

Dear <<Full Name>>:

Boart Longyear is writing to notify you of a cybersecurity incident involving some of your personal information. This letter contains a description of the incident, measures we have taken, information on what data was involved, and steps you may consider taking in response.

What Happened?

On August 31, 2024, we identified suspicious activity within our network. Upon discovering the activity, we took steps to secure our network, commenced an investigation, and a cybersecurity firm was engaged to assist. The investigation determined that, between June 29, 2024 and August 31, 2024, an unauthorized actor gained access to certain files on systems within our network containing some personal information.

What Information Was Involved?

The investigation determined that the files that were accessed may contain your name and one or more of the following: National Identification number, Social Security number, driver's license number or other government identification card number, passport number, medical information, and/or financial account information.

What We Are Doing

We take the privacy of information in our control seriously. We had cybersecurity controls and safeguards in place at the time of the incident and we have implemented additional security measures to enhance our existing cybersecurity protocols. We are also offering you a complimentary two-year subscription to credit and/or identity monitoring services through Experian's® IdentityWorks Credit 3B.

What You Can Do

We recommend you remain vigilant by reviewing your credit reports for any unauthorized activity. We also encourage you to enroll in the Experian IdentityWorks services we are offering. For more information on IdentityWorks Credit 3B, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary membership and some additional steps you can take to help protect yourself, please see the pages that follow this letter.

For More Information

We take this situation seriously and sincerely regret any concern that this may cause. If you have any questions, please call 855-277-7576 Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., EST.

Sincerely,
Boart Longyear

 The Identity Theft Insurance is underwritten and administered by American Bankers Insurance Company of Florida, an Assurant company. Please refer to the actual policies for terms, conditions, and exclusions of coverage. Coverage may not be available in all jurisdictions.

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

We remind you it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity over the next 12 to 24 months. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1-877-322-8228. Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

- Equifax, PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-888-378-4329
- Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742
- TransUnion, PO Box 1000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-800-916-8800

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

- Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), identitytheft.gov

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 160, Woodlyn, PA 19094, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

You also have a right to place a security freeze on your credit report, as described above.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act: The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Your major rights under the FCRA are summarized below. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.
- You have the right to know what is in your file.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.
- Access to your file is limited.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.
- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report.
- You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization.
- You may seek damages from violators.
- Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have additional rights.
